

Dry Enforcers Place Ban On Hops And Malt; Intended To Curtail Home Brewing

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Home brewing was brought under the prohibition law when it was learned that enforcement officials had voted against the sale of hops and malt to others than brewers and confectioners. Great secrecy surrounded the prohibition bureau's action, but it was definitely ascertained that such restriction had been issued. Details of the order were lacking. The only admission made by prohibition officials in the bureau of prohibition was the Volstead act had been construed to mean that the sale of malt and hops as component parts of home made beer were without the sale of the law and their sale must stop. Enforcement officials throughout the country have been notified of the government's determination, but they have not been supplied with the technical language of the decision.

Is Treasury Ruling. The construction of the law which resulted in the new orders was made nearly two months ago. At that time, officials having it in charge started a document through the regular procedure then which it emerges as a Treasury decision. But it has not yet been approved by secretary Houston. WARM FIGHT LOOMING IN POSTELECTION

Officers of the American Legion will be elected at the post's weekly meeting tonight at the chamber of commerce. A hot fight is predicted as several candidates are being put forward for the office of post commander.

Candidates mentioned are Dr. Herbert R. Stevenson, Dr. Paul Gallagher, Julius Albers, N. Langewald and A. W. Norcor. Some of these are holding office at the time of the election. Stevenson is president of the Young Men's Business League and the Elks. He is also a candidate for the office of post commander. Stevenson is a public official and the legion aims to avoid putting anybody into office who holds a political office with nation state, county or city. Julius Albers has the support of most of the legion men who are in the Young Men's Business League and the Elks.

There is also talk of putting up a candidate for adjutant to oppose Dr. P. M. Johnson, Jr., the legion's adjutant. Johnson is the city's every man in the city is asked to come tonight, because the department has nobody knows what might happen.

Story and said they were prepared to meet the attack.

Sections of the act specifically prohibiting the sale of integral parts of beer as well as the formal advertising of recipes for its manufacture were the focus of the attack. The point which they expected to be tested in court was whether the food value of the two articles banned would be the eyes of a court, permit their continued sale for such despite their use as a basis for beer.

Suit Will Test Ruling. Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 12.—Suit to test the recent ruling of the prohibition enforcement bureau prohibiting the sale of malt extract and hops to any one except confectioners and brewers was filed in federal court today by a local distributing company.

HERALD BOYS "KICK" IN TO AID RED CROSS

Herald newboys wanted to help the Red Cross. They couldn't afford to give $1 each, but were told their contribution, like the widow's mite, would be appreciated.

So they all "kicked in" with nickels, dimes and pennies. When the money was counted their contributions amounted to $1.

RESCUE HOME HERE WILL BE ENLARGED

Commissioner and Mrs. Adam Gifford, in charge of the Salvation Army work in the western division, headquarters in San Francisco, will be in El Paso Dec. 12 on an inspection tour. They will be accompanied by their staff. This will be the first visit of these commissioners to El Paso since it was placed in their territory.

It is expected that shortly after their visit here, the work of enlarging the Rescue Home on Westminister street in Government Hill will be undertaken. The plans were drawn several months ago by architect H. M. Buntell, a member of the local advisory board, and have had the approval of the advisory board, consisting of W. Buntell, mayor Charles Davis, county judge E. R. McClintock, J. H. Granger, Maurice Schwartz, G. A. Martin and Dr. G. H. Thomas. and of union Ivy Oldenburg, the mayor. There is money on hand from last year's campaign to begin the construction and complete one unit of it.

The campaign for the maintenance of the Rescue Home and for the work of the army in El Paso in 1921 will begin about the first of December. It will be under the direction of the advisory board, of which Maurice Schwartz is president.

Quinn Oldenburg has just returned from a visit to Denver, where she conferred with her divisional officers relative to the campaign. She was recently promised some help towards the building fund by the county advisory board of Dallas and San Antonio.

Dr. David H. Lawrence, until recently chief of the surgical service at the Base Hospital, Fort Bliss, has opened offices at 218-19 Mills building for the treatment of surgical diseases only. Telephone 78—Adv.

All really good articles, all works of taste and merit must bear a price in proportion to the skill, time, material and expense attending their invention and manufacture.

In the construction of an article which is put to such hard use as a cooking or heating apparatus, it is particularly necessary to use only the best and plenty of it.

This we do.

A composition for cheapness and not for excellence is the most frequent and certain cause of dissatisfaction and waste.
